"Kleanwell" Rubber Sponges for face massage at SOULE'S

MOSQUITO STORY.

TOLD BY AN EASTERN DRUMMER ON PADUCAH.

The "On Dit" man of the Courier-Journal said yesterday:

"The poet has sung, 'Backward, turn backward, O Time in your flight; make me a child again just for tonight.' Well, if I had had that poet in the room with me at Paducah one night last week I would have murdered him in cold blood, for I tried returning to my childhood and the experience was something fierce." A traveling man who looked like James Whitcomb Riley and who is a personal friend of the poet was the speaker. He had just reached the Louisville hotel and registered as U. S. Clemens of New York.

"I had my first experience with a mosquito bar, and it came near being my last. I went to my room and it was as hot as the lower regions. Over the bed was something that looked like a sheet and required close examination to find holes in it. The mosquitoes were so thick that they nearly murdered me before I could get under the canopy, and there it was just about ten degrees hotter than on the outside. I could see the sides shake as a puff of air would hit it, but none of the air reached me. Finally, driven to desperation by the thirst, I ventured out, got a pitcher of ice water and a piece of rubber tubing. I connected the two and drawing in the mouth end of the tube with me as I hastily retreated to the safe harbor of the bed, I lay there just as I did when I was a child, covered up tight with a rubber tube in my mouth. It was enough of the childhood business to last me all my life."

MRS. BEYER DEAD.

AN ESTIMABLE LADY SUCCEUMBS TO ATTACK OF CONGESTION.

Mrs. Conrad Beyer, aged 42, died at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at her home at Third and Tennessee streets from congestion after an illness of ten days. She was a most estimable Christian lady, who had resided in Paducah all her life, being a step daughter of Mr. Henry Diehl, the shoe merchant. Her illness was not regarded as sufficiently serious to alarm her friends until a day or two ago. The deceased was one of the most prominent workers in the German church and leaves many friends to mourn her loss. She leaves a husband and five children, and several brothers and sisters.

MORE WONDERS.

CURE FOR APPENDICITIS WITHOUT THE KNIFE.

Indianapolis, July 14—Hope for those who have appendicitis and fear to be operated on beams from the incorporation papers of the Appendicite Medical company, which were filed with the secretary of state yesterday. The company, which is composed of physicians and business men of Huntington and Fort Wayne, Ind., has patented a mysterious method of treatment discovered by Dr. Marcus H. Thomas, formerly of Indianapolis, now of Huntington.

Dr. Thomas, who is a graduate of the Central College of Physicians and Surgeons, about two years ago, in treating a case of the dreaded malady, had a patient who positively refused to permit an operation. The doctor exhausted every known method of treatment except the resort of the dripping blade of the surgeon. The steadfast objection of the patient to submit to operation led Dr. Thomas to try a preparation which suggested itself to him by its healing properties when applied to the vermiform appendix.

To the great joy of doctor and patient the experimental remedy proved a success and a complete cure was effected. No return of the complaint has come to the patient since.

Among these are Walker in the Leech lake country, and Detroit and Battle Lake in the Lake Park region in Minnesota; Eaton's ranch, near Medora, N. D.; Hunter's Hot Springs, in the Yellowstone valley, and Missoula and the Bitter-root valley in Montana; Lakes Pend d'Oreille and Cour d'Alene, Idaho; North Yakima in Eastern Washington, and Green River Hot Springs in the Cascades; Tacoma, Seattle, Port Townsend, Port Angeles and Victoria on Puget Sound, and many places along the Columbia river and on the Pacific Ocean from Portland as a center.

Those east of the Mississippi who wish a decided change should go to the Rockies or the Puget Sound and Columbia river and sea coast country. We can only hint at these things here, but write us giving particulars as near as you can, and we will try to give you the needed information to enable you to find what you want.
